2005 Eddie Newbern Invitational: The Legacy Lives On

Bremen is a small town nestled in the heart of West Georgia. In the best of prime locations, it is the brightest rising star in the state.

Small towns mean roots, heritage, community and teamwork. Their histories are tapestries of rich hues woven by long term families that live there. The tapestry threads image the personality and character of the city and its people.

The Newberns are long term Bremen folks. In their own quiet and unassuming way Waldo and Dezma Newbern opened a bakery downtown in 1947. They sparked a Bremen family heritage that has expanded like an acorn shoots forth a giant oak. Their bakery was a favorite spot for locals, but more than yeast rose in that growing environment. The Newberns raised a son, Eddie, who grasped their work ethic and small town values.

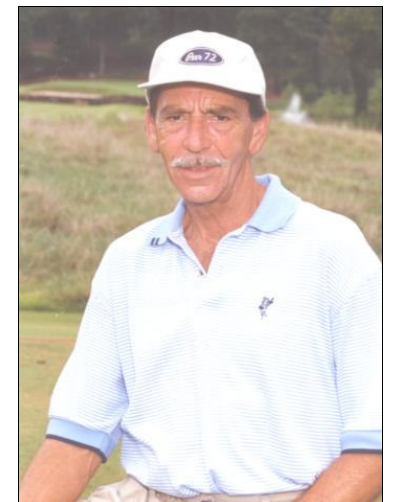

Taking his parents' lead, Eddie Newbern went on to build the highly profitable King Packaging Company. After years of success Eddie sold his business to step back and enjoy his fortune with his family. He was content.

Bremen, however, crashed into a financial crisis. As was his nature, Eddie stepped in to help. With much personal expense and effort, he purchased land and a project that he could certainly have done without. In doing so, he rescued the City of Bremen from impending disaster. Once again a small challenged acorn became a towering oak, and today, The Lion Golf Club stands as one of the finest golf clubs in the country.

On October 6, 2002, after a well-fought battle, cancer snuffed out Eddie Newbern's life. But physical death cannot take one's legacy. Eddie wanted to share what he had with others. His family is taking up the torch. The Eddie Newbern Family is offering the annual Eddie Newbern Invitational Golf Tournament as a way of providing continuing expansion to the quality of life in Bremen, Georgia.

The City of Bremen and the Newbern Family are excited to sponsor the Eddie Newbern Invitational. It is a family affair.
